Glades Day School Band Wins Superior Rating

The Glades Day School Band, shown above, entered district competition for the first time Saturday. The band, with its 77 members under the direction of Fred Stevens, performed in both concert and sight reading and was awarded a superior rating in both categories. This qualifies the band to enter state competition to be held in St. Petersburg on May 1 through May 4. The district contest was held at Palm Beach Gardens High School with approximately 17 area bands entered. All bands were judged by four high school and college band directors from outside this district. Each band performed one march and two overtures in the concert competition. The local band played Torch of Liberty March, Variation Overture and Russians Masters Suite.

Arbitration A Possibility

The South Bay City Commission's refusal to make a firm agreement to have streets damaged during the installation of sewer lines could wind up under enforced arbitration, the contractor said Wednesday.

LaGrow Irrigation Inc. said the contract to install the city's first sewer system includes the provision for arbitration in the event the city and he can't come to an agreement about any phase of construction. LaGrow contends the city agreed to an offer he made to provide the city with a rebate of $10,000 "seed money" to be used to pave five streets rather than repair the strips dug up to lay sewer lines.

Although 8th and 3rd were specified to be shell roads in the contract.

He said the city's consultant, John Stewart, had given him the approval on the $10,000 city has already had 12th Street paved by Gold Coast Paving and the county has agreed to take care of Northwest 10th Street.

LaGrow said he is attempting to press the commission to come to some kind of decision in order to receive his final payment of $22,000.

"We're a small company," he said, "and we can't afford to carry this size of an account receivable indefinitely."

"They (the city commission) need a city manager in the worst way," LaGrow said. "They need a professional man who can sit down and talk with professionals."

LaGrow said he is now ready to offer to pave Northwest 11th, 9th, 8th and 3rd Streets.

With food prices soaring the nation is beginning to take notice of the American Farmer, Doyle Conner, Florida Commissioner of Agriculture.

Going To Pot

Mixed Vegetable Garden Busted

Farming, according to State Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner, may not be lucrative, but a vegetable garden could give a Lake Harbor couple a long vacation courtesy of the state.

Detective Capt. Claude Tindall said Karen Rose Thomas, 26, and Frank Thomas, 26, both of Byrd's Trailer Park in Lake Harbor, were arrested Tuesday when sheriff's deputies found they had a bumper crop of marijuana.

Tindall, who heads the Glades detachment of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, said the couple were raising a row of 57 marijuana plants behind their mobile home along two rows of greens and a row of potatoes.

Tindall said three officers, Lt. George Suttle and Detective Sgt. Thomas Burrus, and Harry Driggers, had been keeping the Thomas residence under surveillance for two days before moving in to make the arrest.

The arrest came when Mrs. Thomas saw Burrus in her garden pulling up marijuana plants, according to Tindall, and tried to run him off, telling him to, "quit pulling up my plants."

"She tried to run him off," Tindall said later, "but he didn't run."

Tindall said the Thomases were charged with possession of more than five grams of marijuana, a felony, and placed under $2,000 bond.

They were to have made their first appearance in court before County Judge Don Adams Wednesday morning.

Tindall reported Thomas told officers he was growing the weed to smoke rather than to sell.

MINOR MINOR GOOD collection party a big success

$9,500 Collected At 'Dimes' Party

Approximately 200 Glades Hikers turned out at a collection party held Saturday at Rardin Park to turn over $9,500.45 they had earned on a 20 mile hike to the March of Dimes.

The walkers, representing the Glades Blister Brigade, came to the party to turn over their earnings and to celebrate the end of the second annual hike to Pabonke and back as part of a county-wide walkathon.

Waiting for them were a number of trophies, 1,000 hot dogs, corn on the cob, all the soft drinks they could guzzle and hot ribs from the Glades Correctional Institution Rock.

Glades area walkathon coordinator Mrs. Marjorie Echols said the party, which would have cost the March of Dimes an estimated $700, was the result of donations made by area merchants and residents.

A large part of the donations was made up in labor by people as Mr. and Mrs. Jim Huggins, who drove to Boca Raton after working hours Friday to pull a truckload of corn to be served the walkers.

After pulling it, the Huggins' were up at 6 a.m. Saturday to stack it and by the time the party was underway, were on hand to help with the collections and cooking.

When the last of the collections had been made, and the last of the walkers had been issued a certificate attesting to this or her part in the walkathon, the crowd began to demolish the food being served by more volunteers.

While the walkers ate, they were entertained by the combo from GCI, but were interrupted long enough for Mrs. Echols to distribute several awards.

Instead of the anticipated two trophies expected to be presented to the walkers, tons from Belle Glade and another from Pabonke, to finish first, Mrs. Echols distributed six.

The trophies were presented to Felix Rosario and Shawn Buchanan, who finished first along with Thomas Dean. Dean wasn't present.

Also recognized were the oldest hikers, Felix Sloan, the youngest walker to begin, Marc Davis, who made the 10 miles to Pabonke, and the youngest to complete the 20 miles, Mrs. Echols' son Philip.

The most successful walkers were recognized as Steve Kemp who collected and even $500 for the 20 miles, and Faith Sasser, who contributed $365 to the March of Dimes by her effort.

'People Noticing Farmer Now'--Conner

"Two never heard a young man say he had chosen agriculture because it was the most lucrative field to choose," Conner said. "For so long the American public has spent only a small portion of its budget on other countries a great deal of their dollar goes for food and little is left for anything else. "People all over the country can thank agriculture for helping feed their children to college," he said. "I have never heard people say that their child could go to college because of the American Farmer. You have made it possible for them to do this by providing cheap food as they had money to spend elsewhere."

Conner heaped on the praise at a $25 a plate appreciation dinner sponsored by local agricultural interests. Over 150 people chipped in $20 a piece to Conner's campaign chest by purchasing tickets to the dinner.

"It is difficult for the average citizen to give you credit for being out there producing food and fiber," Conner said. "But it was the American Farmer who made it possible for this great country to get back its favorable balance of trade payment."

Conner said the American soybean was stronger on the World market than the American dollar. He said if it the U.S. hadn't had wheat and soybean to trade for oil it really would have been in trouble.

"You would think to balance our trade the president would go to big industry," Mr. General Motors of Mr. ITT-to straighten things out," said Conner. "To get the job done. But it was men and women of the soil that other five percent who didn't go into the average job, who went into agriculture to give us the highest standard of living any country has ever had, who saved the day."

Sunflavor Beauty Visits Us

Florida Agriculture's pretty young ambassador for 1974 spent the first part of the week in the Glades touring a number of agricultural facilities to become acquainted with what she represents.

The newly-crowned Miss Sunflavor, 18-year old Miss Carlene Jones of Jacksonville, began her tour Monday with a visit to the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida sugar mill here.

After a tour of Sugarland Ranch in Clewiston, that night, she attended an appreciation dinner at the Clewiston Inn. Area agri-businessmen were giving the dinner to honor State Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner.

Miss Jones was escorted around a number of agricultural points of interest Tuesday by Palm Beach County Agricultural Agent John Cussey, teaching base at South Bay Growers, Florida Lettuce Farms, Wedgworth Farms, A. Duels & Son Farms and the Agricultural Research and Education Center among others.

Miss Jones won her title last month at the Florida State Fair in Tampa. She entered the contest after winning the title of Miss Greater Jacksonville Fair.

Nobody Loves...

A Fat Streaker

Everywhere you go just about everyone is talking about streaking.

Even sedate, tightly controlled Clewiston-America's Sweetest Town—has had its streaker. And we mean—if our prim and proper neighbor to the west is having its streaking incidents—just think what it is like out in the rest of the world.

It's hard to believe, but on university campuses such as Fulane as many as 400 people have streaked at one time. And these are covey streakers you better believe. Streakers have made appearances in front of as many as 6,000 people at the University of Florida.

Pictures of streakers have been on television. Appeared in the paper. They have received much attention. And this, after all, is what they are after. We can't help thinking of the incongruity of the entire craze. For years the "flashers" those dirty old men who have stood around in rain coats flashing their naked body at passers by have been considered sick degenerates.

Then along comes a bunch of crazy kids who bare all in front of shouting, encouraging crowds and they are almost glorified for their acts. What's wrong and what's right in this crazy world of ours.

Next thing you know the craze will be "strollers" who no longer feel they need to hurry along in the all together.

What is the answer to the problem. Is there a problem at all? It all depends on what your definition of "redeeming social importance" is, we guess.

There are two ways to end streaking. Ignore it. Once they are denied the attention they are seeking by performing the act in the first place, the streakers will stop.

Or, as what should have been done in the first place, toss them in jail for violating public obscenity laws—sans clothing of course.

One good thing may come from streaking, however. We may become a nation of diet conscious Americans. After all, nobody loves a fat streaker.

Eighteenth century ladies sometimes cinched their waists in so tightly they suffocated.

"YEAH, IT'LL BE GREAT TO GET BACK TO CIVILIZATION, WHERE THERE'S PLENTY OF EVERYTHING."

Ten Miles To Lunchtime

Dear Sir,
The Walk-A-Thon is a tremendous idea. Four of my children walked the twenty miles. They raised about $250.00 for crippled children. I have one major complaint, however. After walking for three and one half hours to Pahokee my children were refused food by our good neighbors to the north. They, the good neighbors, simply told the children the food was for the Pahokee walkers. There they were in Pahokee penniless, and without lunch. So, they had to walk the ten miles south before they had anything to eat except salt tablets and cola. In the future if the children are not going to be fed, I would like to know so that I can drive some lunch to my children and their friends. Eight hours and nothing to eat is not really human.

Thank you,
A Belle Glade Parent

Security For Stove Slaves, Satisfaction For Streakers

My of grandpappy told me a long time ago that it's not a good idea to get into arguments over politics and religion; said you can't win the argument, won't make a friend and probably will make an enemy.

Until now, I've felt the same way about Women's Lib. I don't really have any strong feelings on the subject but now the liberals, or at least two of them, have gone past the ridiculous to the sublime.

Congresswomen Martha Griffiths of Michigan and Barbara Jordan of Texas have filed a bill in the House of Representatives to include "home-makers" into the U.S. Social Security program.

The idea, according to news stories, is to "recognize and reward the economic value of the work performed by the homemaker."

(There's the word again. I guess "housewife" is going the same way as "janitor" and "garbageman", which have been replaced by "building engineer" and "sanitation specialist or engineer.")

At any rate, this bill has to be one of the dumbest, cut off your nose to spite your face, move I've ever heard of.

Presumably the bill is a natural follow-up of the idea housewives should be paid a salary, and I've heard mentioned figures as high as $11,000 a year, for the work they do in the house. Sounds pretty good at first blush but anybody with more than mush for brains can begin to see its shortcomings about two—after their first think about it.

Unless the hell-dumb-heads think the federal government is to begin paying housewives wages for their services, they can only be thinking the husband is going to cough up the loot.

In that case, assuming the husband even makes the amount the wife is demanding, it logically follows the husband can charge her for the food she eats, her rent and other expenses.

Besides, who's going to pay the husband for the work he does around the house? The wife, out of what he pays her? And what about the kids?

Do their expenses get paid by union (the wife) or management (the husband.)

And who do you think you're kidding if you think the burn-the-bra brigade would settle for the title of union members and let the husband have the title of management.

The whole idea is preposterous but it's no more absurd than this Social Security idea.

Who's going to pay the Social Security tax, since the woman isn't paid a wage by her husband? Why, the husband, of course.

And don't think the husband is going to get off cheap. A lot of people never stop to think about it but the wage-earner only pays half his FICA taxes. The rest are paid by his employer.

That means the husband would pick up the entire tab. And that, dear ladies, means you would have just that much less money to run the house with.

And what do the women get out of it that they don't already have coming? You lucky ladies, you. You'd get the pride of knowing you were worth something, assuming you don't already know that.

You sure wouldn't get anything else because you know as well as I do you're already entitled to Social Security benefits. This bill doesn't give you anything else in that area.

Some people might wonder why bachelor would get so worked up over something like this that doesn't even affect him. Actually, I'm not...or no more than when I see stupidity in any other area.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Like I've already said, Women's Lib just doesn't get me very excited one way or the other. So far as the Equal Rights goes, I don't think it'll reach the country or right all wrongs automatically.

I've always been a little leery of idealists, no matter what flag they fly. About the time a person gets wrapped up in a Cause with a capital "C" to the point these women are, they lose touch with reality.

And when that happens, it's almost like someone opened their heads, took out the grey matter and poured in cold oatmeal and sheer stupidity is the result.

Besides that, they lose their sense of humor and when you can't laugh at yourself, you might just as well roll over and die. Life can't be much fun for a fanatic.

I guess that's why I was somewhat encouraged the other day to read in the daily newspaper where a spokesman (pardon me, a spokesperson or spokeswoman, whichever you prefer) said ERA supporters around the area are going to take a low-profile approach. Now, if they'll only regain their sense of humor....

Take streakers, for instance. Now, these cats know what's happening. They're to the point they can pull the most outlandish stunts you can think of and not only laugh at themselves but give a chuckle to the rest of the world too.

Nobody takes them seriously, least of all themselves and when Ol' Hairy-legs pavement pounding has died in the distance, anyone who saw him (or her) can get back to their studies after a refreshing laugh.

Those are the types of games people play in college when they're not wasting their energy burning down ROTC buildings or taking over the president's office.

Actually, streaking isn't the brand-new fad a lot of people think it is even if it isn't the past week or so the nation until the past week or so and didn't really catch on until then. But I remember a few guys duffing off the record

with Glenn Laney

Everyone should go to New Orleans at least once in their life.

So that's just what the wife and I did last Thursday. We dropped daughter off at her grandparents in Orlando, climbed on a plane and headed for the land of palates and oysters (and much, much more).

Actually I was cheating a little. I had been to the city that never goes to bed about 11 years ago. But I really didn't spend that much time there, nor did I have enough time to take advantage of the many things it offers.

So using a ninth wedding anniversary as a good excuse, I decided to go for my second time and take the spouse along for her first trip ever.

The $9.25 taxi fare from the airport to downtown hotels is indicative of prices in general. But what the hey—you're only going to do this once—so live it up.

We stayed at a very attractive, very well run hotel called the Le Pavillon. Stepping into its lobby was like stepping into a French mansion many years ago.

Eight gigantic chandeliers hovered over you, amplified in their effect by their reflection in the several huge mirrors judiciously spaced around the lobby. Upstairs in the room everything was spotless—well worth the $60 a day it cost.

The hotel was a self-contained "pleasure unit" in itself. (More about the phrase later) It had a dining area for breakfast, lunch and a beautiful dining room for dinner. It also contained a lounge with its own fine entertainment nightly. And while we used the facilities and enjoyed them—the real action was five blocks away—the incomparable Bourbon St.

Your most expensive evening on Bourbon St. is probably your best evening of entertainment. I am speaking of the shows put on by Pete Fountain and Al Hirt. Both men entertain, both in different ways.

Pete fountain is more formal. Drinks, the show and tip will run about $17 for two. Pete, backed up by a great band will stand on stage for an hour and amaze you with the clearest tones ever to come out of a clarinet.

Catch the early show at Pete's Place, then scoot on down a couple blocks and drop in on Al Hirt. You'll miss about the first 15 minutes or so of it—but we were told "Mr. Hirt" would play until midnight, and it wasn't until 12:30 that the great one put down his horn.

He finishes his act with a salute to Satchmo Armstrong. Much of the time he is wandering through the audience as he plays. That morning on the news it was announced his wife of 31 years had divorced him. You couldn't have told it by his performance.

Hirt is much more informal than Fountain. He jokes with his band and the audience. He becomes much more involved. It will cost you $23 including tip, but it is well worth it.

By now it's 12:30 a.m. and things are just getting started out on Bourbon St. It's time to stop by the Desire and have oysters and champagne or oysters and wine or oysters and beer. But you gotta have the raw oysters. They are fresh and they are delicious.

If you're old folks like us, the Desire is the last stop before walking back to the hotel. If you're young and full of enthusiasm the Desire is just a pit stop to fill your engines with a little more gas—because brother—things have just begun.

Our waitress at breakfast the next morning summed up the atmosphere of the city best. We staggered bleary-eyed into the patio breakfast area and weakly joked that we had "closed down" Bourbon St. the night before.

"Oh, you men you haven't been to bed yet," she asked.

The city doesn't sleep. The bars on Bourbon St. are open—many of them 24-hours a day. When we left Bourbon at about 3 a.m. there were still hundreds of people walking the streets enjoying themselves.

Of course while we were there we had to go to Brennan's for breakfast. It's a way of life in New Orleans. And it was everything it was cracked up to be.

It took two hours to finish everything. But you didn't want to eat another thing for the rest of the day. They had to cart us out in a wheelchair.

You can spend hours in the French Quarter of New Orleans just walking up and down the streets watching the characters that parade by. It's better than any airport for people watching.

If I took time to tell you everything about the trip it would take this entire page. So believe me when I say—go—alright one. I'm not so sure I could survive a second trip.

Take stock in America.

Rumor has it that Queen Elizabeth of England gambled, or rather didn't gamble, with loaded dice!

their duds at the University of Florida when I was a senior there in 1970. They streaked too, but I don't remember anyone calling it that.

That's why I didn't take too kindly to one television newscaster saying that girls' school in Tallahassee was where streaking originated.

But we've got to give it to North Carolina, whatever it is, might be giving for streaking. I understand more than 500 streakers were in action at one time at either the University of North Carolina or North Carolina State last week.

Now, bring on those goldfish, beds on wheels and telephone booth stuffers again.

Talk about putting the whoa brakes on. I notice where Art Arfons, the Ohio speed demon who set the world's land speed record when he pushed a jet car more than 500 miles per hour, has switched to power.

Arfons was supposed to have been one of the more exotic competitors in the Second Annual Kissimmee Valley National Tractor Pull. In a modified stock tractor named the "Cockatoo 40".

I say "was" advisedly since Arfons has since torn up his tractor, but if the whole thing sounds like a drag race, it is.

According to Tom Tumbleton, chairman of the event, there will still be some pretty exotic tractors there, including a four-Ford-engine version and a couple of tractors powered by 16 cylinder brutes.

Considering the number of farmers around Belle Glade, and if this thing catches on, I wouldn't be too surprised to see some of the local teenagers snipping up Datsun tractors.

Takes you right back to the '60s, doesn't it?

God Enriches Sense Of Living

A "full and complete understanding of life as God enriches our whole sense of living," said Paul K. Wavro, C.S.B., a Christian Science lecturer who spoke in Belle Glade on Saturday.

Wavro is a recognized teacher and practitioner of Christian Science. His lecture, entitled "The Way of Abundant Life" was sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist and presented in the church edifice.

As a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., Wavro has toured many parts of the world. He observed that "people everywhere have desires that are common to all—the desire to be healthy and to experience an abundant life."

The answer to this search, he said, is found in the life of Christ Jesus.

He quoted Jesus' well-known words, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly"—and this was the heart of the lecture.

From outward appearances, Wavro noted, Jesus "didn't appear to be well qualified to speak—about health and abundant life. He never took medicine. He owned no home or property. He had no accumulated savings nor did he own any securities. His only possessions were the clothes he wore."

"Could it be that his words and life have never been fully understood?" asked the lecturer.

He pointed out that "Jesus' demonstration of well-being and abundant life rested on two essential points: a knowledge of the real essence of life itself, and an understanding of the substantial nature of true abundance."

The real essence of life is not found in matter, he said. It is found in God.

"Spirit and matter are opposites. One is infinite; the other finite. We must face the fact that both cannot be the source of real life."

"Christian Scientists find their answer in the Bible; it tells us that God, Spirit, is the only real cause, the only creator," Mr. Wavro stated.

And he added that "False concepts of life as limited, discordant and material will disappear, as we better understand the spiritual nature of God as Life."

Why should it be surprising, he asked, "To find that God, Himself, is Life and the source of all life?

"As the Biblical record states, 'God created man in His own image.' Man's relationship to God is as fixed and eternal as God Himself, and through this understanding we perceive man's true selfhood."

"Unless we see an individual as the spiritual image, or reflection, of God, we're not seeing what is real or true about man. We're not seeing him as God knows him to be."

To discover this, said the lecturer, reveals "the abundant life Christ Jesus promised."

Awakening to this spiritual sense of life through prayer is the basis of Christian Science healing, he added.

"The instant we become conscious of the ideas of God of Life, they begin to shape and mold our experience."

Wavro related some actual case including the complete healing of a young child who had been diagnosed as incurably ill with leukemia.

The lecturer quoted Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, illustrating her spiritual conviction: "No evidence before the material senses can close my eyes to the scientific proof that God, good, is supreme. Though clouds are round about Him, the divine justice and judgment are enthroned."

Just as radar controls can guide a pilot in through a fog, Wavro commented, spiritual facts provide perfect controls to guide us through the deceiving shadows of materiality.

He concluded the lecture with another statement by Mrs. Eddy, once published in the church periodical, the Christian Science Sentinel:

"Life lies before you glorious; banish the shadow, seize the substance thereof, and God, good, is with you always."

Nu Kappa Revives Fifties

BRENDA PRESCOTT CHOSEN GIRL OF YEAR
...by Nu Kappa as Judy Browning presents trophy.

Glades Mayor Named Woman Of The Year

South Bay City Commissioner Verne Verrill Cox was recently named "Woman of the Year" by the Belle Glade Civic Club at its annual Founders Day Program.

Club president Mrs. Estelle Pyfrom presented a plaque and corsage to Mrs. Cox, who is also the director of nursing at Sunset Heights Nursing Home.

Mrs. Patricia Murray, biology teacher at Glades Central

Review Draws Gaiety

Amid chuckles from the audience, Mrs. William Thibaud reviewed Eleanor Craig's book, "Your Not Listening" Thursday, Mar. 7, at the Civic Center. Members of the Woman's Club and guests were thoroughly entertained as Mrs. Thibaud took the role of Mrs. Craig, a school teacher.

Three local artists presented a musical devotional which preceded the review. "Barcarolle" by Offenbach was sung by Esther Wenger and Milton Carpenter, followed by Mrs. Carpenter's rendering of "I Was A Tree" by Geoffrey O'Hara. Mrs. Gordon Corbin, pianist, accompanied the vocalists.

A sizeable painting by Edrye Burdine depicting a lone woman woodland heightened the impact of O'Hara's composition.

Presiding at the business meeting was the club president, Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth. Hostesses for the event were Meses. In Nachman, Clyde Parrish, L.L. Price and Philip Shuford.

Bridge Winners

Winners in the Thursday night Open Contract Bridge Club tournament held last week were Mrs. Jean Davis and Mrs. Joanne Whitlock according to club reporter, Mrs. Bee Wood.

Mrs. Wood and her husband, Guy, took second place in the competition. Mrs. Jean Rorer and Mrs. Gladys Williams came in third and Mrs. Cecilia Malley and Mrs. Mollie Pearlman were fourth.

Mrs. Wood said the club, which meets at 7:30 p.m. every Thursday, at the Belle Glade Elks Lodge, is open to all bridge players.

On March 1, Nu Kappa held their Girl Of The Year party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Battle.

The theme of this year's party was the "Fifties". The time when saddle-oxfords, bobby socks, rolled up jeans and the boy were the "in" things. The hit music of those days played throughout the night which put everyone in the spirit of the rockin' fifties. Steaks were brought by each couple and they were grilled outside on the patio as the rest of the meal was being prepared in the kitchen.

After the dinner, president, Mrs. Richard Browning announced the new Girl Of The Year, Mrs. Paul Prescott, ways and means chairman. She had much success with her projects this year. She is also the chapter's recording secretary.

After the announcement, the social chairman handed out gifts to each of the members. These gifts were bought by each secret sister and took the place of party favors. It was a treat everyone enjoyed.

Games were played during the night. One was a relay of passing a lifesaver from one person to another using a toothpick. It proved to be much harder than it looked. Another was tying a balloon around the waist with a string and using a newspaper roll trying to pop other's balloons before they got yours. It was a very enjoyable night of dancing and games for everyone.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Angel, Miss Cathy Battle and Mr. Harold Penick, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Browning, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Wynn Jones, Miss Beanie Jo Lane and Mr. Gary Crews, Donnie Lindsey and Jean Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rongione, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rumsell, Mr. and Mrs. David Spooner.

Extra care in engineering...it makes a big difference in small cars.

Where's the only place in town to find a small car that...

1. ...is priced less than Volkswagen's most popular model.

You'll be surprised how little it costs to own one of our small cars. The suggested retail price is less than Volkswagen's most popular model, believe it or not.

2. ...can go farther on a gallon of gas than Nova.

Recently published test results by Popular Science show our "Slant Six" engine can go farther on a gallon of gas than Nova, and you get a "Slant Six" engine standard in all our small cars, which means you can get more miles per gallon than comparable size small cars like Maverick, Comet, Ventura and Apollo.

3. ...has more trunk space than 3 Pintos.

Plymouth Duster and Dodge Dart Sport have the largest luggage capacity by far in the small car field. More than Nova and Maverick, twice as much as Vega and more than three times as much as Pinto.

4. ...has up to 20" more total hiproom than a Maverick.

Dart Sport and Duster seat 5 comfortably. And they have more hiproom—front and rear—than Nova, Hornet and, of course, Mustang II, Gremlin, Vega and Pinto.

5. ...can save you as much as $62 in ignition maintenance alone.

Electronic Ignition is standard on all our small cars. In recommended ignition maintenance alone, you can save up to $62 every 24,000 miles over competitive 6-cylinder engines and up to $27 over competitive 4-cylinder engines.

Pesame

nuestro sentido pesame

Dejamos llegar hasta la señora Carrillo Fuxa y su familia nuestro sentido pesame por el fallecimiento de su señora mama en días pasados. Sabemos que el vacío dejado por un ser tan especial solo puede ser llenado por la presencia de Dios en la vida, y es precisamente nuestro deseo que eso ocurra en la vida de nuestra estimada amiga la señora Fuxa y sus familiares. La actitud de nosotros al enfrentarnos a la vida, tiene mucho que decir de nuestro éxito o fracaso en ella.

elocuentemente de Máximo Gómez y de Antonio Maceo. Y a la caída de Maceo en San Pedro, el 7 de diciembre de 1896, la guerra prosiguió bajo la dirección de Máximo Gómez, culminando con la victoria que dio la independencia a Cuba.

Este momento llega con la invitación de José Martí. Con sencillez, con patriotismo, con humildad, declino su jerarquía y su jefatura, y presto toda su cooperación a los proyectos maritianos.

Así se reúne en Montecristi, donde leemos el mundo el Manifiesto del mismo nombre, en el que se explicaba los fines de la Revolución y las razones que la justificaban.

Después, el desembarco. De nuevo en tierra cubana. Los tres jefes se reúnen en "La Mejorana", en mayo de 1896 para trazar los planes de la campaña. Martí fue reconocido como Jefe Superior de la Revolución. Máximo Gómez, General en Jefe; y Antonio Maceo, Logariente General y Jefe de Oriente.

Pensando Juntos

pensamiento de curasmas:

La religión de Jeremías fue un asunto de su corazón. La religión personal y experimental en el fue evidencia de que era un hombre de Dios. Su santidad lo obligaba a reparar en Dios y a experimentar una dependencia personal del Eterno.

Cuántas veces se dejó caer en los amorosos brazos de Dios y descubrió en él una fuente inagotable de fortaleza que lo condujo a través de las horas de prueba.

—Nuestro comentario...

En estos días de Curasmas y Semana Santa, hagamos una relación tan íntima con Dios, que nosotros también podamos caer en los brazos del Eterno Dios y encontrar salida y solución para nuestras necesidades y conflictos.

Nuestros niños latinos, no se pueden culpar en muchas ocasiones de traer al hogar ocurrencias de ser problemas disciplinarios en las aulas, sin antes investigar la o las causas para estos problemas.

Hoy examinemos la siguiente causa: "el idioma". Sabemos definitivamente que muchos de los niños latinos vienen de hogares donde solamente el español es hablado. Esto hace que un niño que comience el colegio, tenga dificultades en incorporar y hacer tan buen trabajo como un niño americano, o un niño expuesto al inglés.

Pero ya gracias a la paciencia y a la visión de maestros latinos, nuestros niños reciben ayuda. Esta ayuda les permite que se superen y fortalezcan las bases del inglés.

El programa que el Condado de West Palm Beach ha comenzado, ha permitido que no solamente los niños se levanten al nivel promedio de los niños de habla inglesa, sino que como es el caso de un jovenito del Lakeshore Elementary, ya ha superado a todos los de su clase.

El programa en este colegio, el Lake Shore Elementary School está encabezado por la señora Zoraida Perez y Gustavo Tamez, quienes trabajan arduamente para ayudar a nuestros niños latinos.

Este programa que además de ayudar a nuestros niños está envolviendo mucho más a los padres en preocuparse y ser parte de la educación de sus hijos a través de la participación de actividades extra escolares, esta una vez más destacando que el ser BILINGUE, es de gran ventaja y de gran valor para los niños y para los jóvenes, y que la persona bilingüe tendrá siempre las puertas abiertas, y más oportunidades que aquel que no lo es.

Permitámonos en estas líneas felicitar a estos dos maestros, y extender esta felicitación a TODOS LOS MAESTROS HISPANOS, que con gran esfuerzo de su parte están haciendo una labor de gran valor, ya no solo en Lake Shore, sino también en los otros colegios de nuestra ciudad. ADELANTE Y MUCHISIMOS EXITOS.

Hello dere.

Long time, no see...at least a week now and would you believe Wade has been teaching me how to run the Linotype?

Just kidding. Like I said a long time ago, I'm going to show you a lot about the operation here at the Belle Glade Herald, but when I hit our head printer up about cross-training me to do job printing, he just laughed.

"Cindy," Wade said, "you're a sharp kid but you're just like a lot of other people. You must think you're going to learn letterpress (That's one kind of type. I know that much anyway.) in a week or so."

Well, when he put me up in front of the Linotype keyboard, I began to see what he was talking about. The keys aren't anything like a typewriter's and all those levers and all...Wow!

Anyway, Wade said he had been working around printing for more than 25 years and that's why he knows his way around the print shop the way he does.

And that, dear customer, is why Wade can give you the type (no pun intended) of printing job you're looking for.

Whether you want to get 125 invitations printed or a quarter of a million handbills run off, and we've had both sizes of jobs this week, you just know you can't go wrong when the printer has a quarter of a century of experience to draw on.

So whatever kind of job you have, bring it on down to Wade and tell him Cindy sent you. Who knows, you might even catch a glimpse of a steepler in the house.

That'll be me.

Personality Quiz

YOU-TOO INDULGENT?

The late Fred Allen once said: "The world is a prison; life is your nose." Whether or not you agree with this point of view, you are probably willing to admit that all play and no work makes Jack an indolent boy. The following test will help you tell which you prefer—working or shirking.

1. If the circus is in town and a child of yours expresses a wish to see it, you should (A) Offer to get the child tickets for himself and a friend, (B) Take the youngster and his friends to the circus yourself, or (C) Tell the child, "Maybe next year?"

2. If you're driving a car and you get a flat tire, it is best to (A) Make an effort to change the tire yourself, (B) Call the nearest service station, or (C) Drive on the flat tire to the nearest service station, hoping that the tire won't be ruined?

3. When a friend of yours dies and his family asks that donations to a particular charity be made in lieu of flowers, you should (A) Make the donation and not send flowers, (B) Send flowers only, or (C) Do both—send flowers and contributing to the charity?

4. If you're dining at a restaurant and the bill for the meal on the check exceeds that on the menu, it is a good idea to (A) Ask the waiter about the discrepancy, (B) Say nothing but not tip the waiter, or (C) Forget the matter as too trivial to bother about?

5. If one of your children breaks a brand-new toy you gave him, it's best to (A) Reprimand him severely, (B) Explain how important it is to care for his things, or (C) Buy him a new toy right away.

For the correct answers, see below.

ANSWERS: 1. (B) If you can take the youngster and his friends to the circus yourself, especially if they are small, telling the child "Maybe next year" is an easy way out of your responsibilities. And merely getting them tickets isn't a good idea unless the children are older and say that they'd rather go by themselves. 2. (A) Make an effort to change the tire yourself if you can't call a nearby service station. 3. (C) Do both—sending flowers and contributing to the charity. In this way you can honor the wishes of the dead, as well as express your personal sympathy. 4. (A) Ask the waiter about the discrepancy. Forgetting the matter is too indolgent, and refusing to tip the waiter may imply that it is his fault when it isn't. 5. (B) Explain how important it is for a child to care for his toys.

Be sure to use the correct tax table FOR YOU.

How long a widow?
Men really ought to marry women older than themselves. But because they usually don't the typical husband is about four years older than his mate-and because females live about five years longer than males, the average wife can expect close to a decade of widowhood.
A widow must make financial decisions in a hurry. If her emotions rule at this tragic moment, she may spend thousands of dollars unnecessarily. Since few wives are emotionally prepared for the sudden and devastating experiences of becoming a widow, a thoughtful husband can do much to ease these pressures.
It's false kindness to avoid talk of death. Face up to the facts. Discuss openly financial facts, wills, insurance. Have your wife meet your advisors-your insurance agent, lawyer, banker and get to know them. In a crisis it's always best to deal with friends-not just names.
This information has been brought to you as a public service by your local insurance professionals--the insurance agency that came... MILTON CARPENTER INSURANCE INC., 141 S.E. Avenue C, Belle Glade. Phone 996-7311. Associates Thomas B. Rumlak and Paul Kornya.

Marchers Bring $10,000

Blistered Dogs Earn Hot Dogs

Did we say blistered? Make that blistered, baked and beat, but the almost $10,000 gathered by the walkers who were at the party pretty well made up for those sore tootsies—and that wasn't counting the rockin' good music played by the GCI band (above) or the Chow (below). Then there were the awards, like the ones for the oldest and youngest walkers, Felix Stonaker and Marc Davis (left), as well as awards to the fastest (six of those) and for bringing in the most money.

Appreciation Plaque Presented

as Acting Librarian Don Ruth looks on. Mrs. Greer said a plaque was presented for Miss Wilson's work as chairman of the Beautification Month in November. Miss Wilson said she is leaving the Belle Glades to take a position with the Kern County, Cal. library system in Bakersfield, Cal.

Job Bank Begun

Men and women looking for jobs don't necessarily have to wait for a staff member at the Florida State Employment Service office to break free now before they can get a look at jobs around the state.

Because the employment service office in Belle Glade, located on SRT15 is part of a new state-wide job bank, employment seekers can now go directly to a micro-fiche viewer to see a list of job openings.

The viewer, simple enough to operate so no help is needed with it, is located on a table by the entrance of the office according to office manager Ed Brancati, and carries a listing of more than 300 job openings.

The offerings vary from secretarial positions and truck drivers the employers are willing to train all the way to opening for engineers in the five-figure salary bracket, salary bracket.

"This way," Brancati said, "a person doesn't have to wait for us. He can get a good idea about what jobs are available, how much they pay, what the qualifications are, where they're located and just about everything but the name of the company."

He said the micro-fiches are delivered daily from West Palm Beach, with duplicates which include the names of the employers. Each day, new offerings are included and the positions which have been filled are deleted.

The service was begun Monday and Brancati said he believes it will cut down on the time staff members will have to spend with many clients.

The service is a direct spinoff of the job bank the office has been included in on a regional basis but the new service includes offerings all the way north to Jacksonville and west to Pensacola.

"We're a few hours behind most of the other offices around the state when we receive the "micro-fiches," Brancati said, "but with the type of jobs open here, the employers will probably be taking time to screen employees so that won't matter."

BRANCATI WATCHES AS JOB-SEEKER LOOKS over job offerings on job bank viewer screen here.

A Librarian's Farewell

This will be my farewell column to Belle Glade. I have very much enjoyed the more than two years I have spent here. Thank you to all the people who have helped me and used the library. I hope you will all continue to help the new librarian when he is selected.

Miss Donna Ruth, a native of Greeley, Col., will be in charge until a new librarian is selected. Miss Ruth is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma Library School in Norma, Okl. She has been in Belle Glade just one week and is trying to learn the procedures and to meet the people of Belle Glade.

The school of the month of March is Glades Central. Any student there who has lost their library card can get a new one free.

We encourage teachers at Glades Central to bring their classes to the public library. We will give classes a tour of the library, show a film and possibly read a story.

On Saturday at 2 p.m. the movie "THE CHICKEN" and "BLUEBERRIES FOR SAL" will be presented. Admission is free and open to children of all ages.

Remember the library is open every day of the week except Sunday.

Good-bye to you all.

Fashion Show Set

FREDDIE HOWARD IS ONE OF THE MODELS set to show off fashions for Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church.

The First Annual Mount Zion A.M.E. Church Food and Fashion Show is being planned to take place at 8 p.m. Mar. 23 at the Belle Glade Civic Center near Glades Central High School.

Chairman Maude Vereen said Charles Todd has been chosen to act as the toastmaster for the program, which will feature fashions for both men and women.

Mrs. Vereen said the public is invited to the show and tickets, costing $6 for adults and $3 for children, may be obtained at Shirley's Place of Beauty on Southwest Avenue E or from herself or co-chairman Freddie Howard.

Woman Power Available

Glades area women thinking about enlisting in the Army now have a veteran they can get advice and information on the Womens Army Corps from every Monday.

Providing the Glades with its first WAC counselling service ever is Sgt. Elsa Birchwood, a six-year veteran of the Corps who has recently returned from Japan.

Women in the Army have been subjected to a number of slandersous remarks," Sgt. Birchwood said, "which are not true. I can talk about those things when a man might feel reluctant to do so."

Sgt. Birchwood said she, again because of her sex, is also in a better position to insure possible recruits into the WAC are qualified because she can ask questions a male may be reluctant to ask.

She said she is the only WAC counselor in the West Palm Beach region, covering an area from Fort Pierce on the north to Hollywood on the south to Labele on the west.

Sgt. Birchwood said women are playing an expanded role in the Army today and the number of women enlistees have grown so, compared to male enlistees, there are now two training battalions for women.

SGT. ELSA BIRCHWOOD IS HERE TO TELL Glades girls about women in the "Modern Army."

RAIDER RUNNING BACK JERRY CLARK NOMINATED TO PREP All-America Football team by Coach and Athlete Magazine competition.

Jerry Clark Nominated For Prep All-American

Glades Central High School running back Jerry Clark has been nominated for the Prep All-America Football team to be named in the March issue of Coach & Athlete Magazine.

Clark was nominated last fall with the other nominees for the magazine's Prep Honor Roll and he is eligible to be named to the Prep 100 Squad, the Super Eleven Team and Cum Laude.

Clark led the offensive team for the Raiders in the number of points scored, number of yards rushed, punt returns and kick-off returns.

He picked up a total of 918 yards during his senior year, averaging 6.5 yards a carry. He scored a total of 62 points for the year, returned punts 255 yards and kick-offs for 277 yards.

Clark's totals for his two years on the Raider varsity squad was 1,908 yards rushing in 244 carries. He scored 24 touchdowns during those two years for a total of 148 points.

Raider Head Coach Al Werneke said the Raider coaching staff nominated Clark to the Prep 100 Squad last fall when the magazine sent him a ballot.

Werneke said approximately 300 high school athletes around the nation have been nominated to the magazine's program.

Nominations for the 1973-74 Prep-Honor Roll were made last fall by high school coaches and athletic directors, college recruiters and sports writers across the country.

They were asked to nominate candidates having the best record of local achievement on their teams or in their areas. Criteria by which these local football players were nominated include: outstanding athletic ability based on career records, sportsmanship, leadership and service to team and community.

Sponsored by COACH & ATHLETE Magazine, the Prep All-American Football Program is an annual honor roll of outstanding football players from high school teams throughout the country.

The purpose of the program is to promote and encourage by means of national recognition, local sports accomplishment and individual athletic ability.

Each local winner's athletic achievements will be presented in the 1973-74 PREP ALL-AMERICA FOOTBALL Award Yearbook to be published in June. This publication is highly regarded by college coaches and scouts as a finger tip source for recruiting prospective athletes.

Heading the Prep Awards selection Committee is Dwight Keith, Editor of COACH & ATHLETE Magazine. I traded a softball for a basketball this past Sunday.

The Harlem Globetrotters played the Washington Generals at the West Palm Beach Auditorium so Annette Davis and I decided to skip our softball practice and go see them.

My mother will be the first to tell you, used to the only time I would miss a practice was if something really drastic happened and even then I was reluctant to miss it.

But I did it voluntarily this time. Of course I thought I was going to see a basketball game.

As it turned out we first had to sit through a couple of pre-game side-shows.

Some guy who called himself Daring Deaville or something like that got out there and performed some tricks on the tightwire.

Nothing really spectacular. I went and bought some popcorn to munch on, at least it was more interesting. Before the audience could be put to sleep by the same tricks they brought another performer out, this time to do a juggling act.

When the basketball game finally began I had eaten my way through a box of popcorn, a hot dog with gobs of ketchup and relish, a coke and a pack of gum.

The game itself proved to be exciting with Meadowlark Lemon providing the laughs for the audience. The Globetrotters were also great at playing a straight game of basketball. All too soon halftime came and we were treated to a ping pong match between two professionals, one from England and one from the United States.

The match was endeavorful but next came "Vino Vendito" (again I'm not sure of the name but what difference does it make?) with a balancing act.

The balancing consisted of the performer holding a tray with four glasses on a pole on his head. The whole crowd seemed to be almost asleep except for some woman in the next aisle who clapped at anything and everything.

I do believe if some kid spilled his popcorn all over her she would have just sat there and clapped.

Finally the Globetrotters came out and did their thing and the show was over with.

Don't get me wrong. I have nothing against juggling, tightwire, and balancing acts but there's a time and a place for everything.

And from the reaction of the audience that wasn't the time nor place.

Surf's up everyone!

If you're one of the ones who haven't been to the beach this winter (I) because you were afraid of one of those short cold spells would come along, worry no longer for awhile anyway. Weather forecasters say its sunny weather ahead.

I went to the beach this past weekend with a friend and we had a great time, sporting sunbats to prove it.

Only don't look for any privacy at the beach unless you know of a hideout somewhere, it's very crowded.

The Dread Disease

Only a disease of epidemic proportions could totally empty this classroom and the contagion is spreading even now. The name of the dread disease is apathy.

Like the plague of old and the flu of more recent years, this disease struck first and most viciously in foreign lands, then spread its way to America and began to spread. The symptoms are a marked lack of interest in governmental affairs, reluctance to "get involved," and a total unconcern for the fate of our country. We have seen the fatal effects in other nations—freedom inevitably lost.

There is still time to arrest this disease. There is no indifference in concern.

Let prove once again that Americans care about their freedom.

KEEP AMERICA STRONG!

Tax Aids

Many persons who have successfully managed to finish high school or obtain a loan from a bank or sell a house or take out a driver's license consider themselves unable to unravel the mysteries of Federal Income Tax Form 1040. Take them one at a time they are not so threatening.

The person setting out to square his annual account with Internal Revenue Service should first get the records together—W-2's with holding reports from each employer he has worked for during the year, plus information from banks, brokers, etc. on interest and dividend income the taxpayer has received.

If you are going to itemize deductions (and if you are not may be eligible to use Form 1040A—the short form) you will need canceled checks, receipts and other evidence of deductible expenses: taxes and interest paid, medical and dental costs, charitable contributions and unreimbursed business expenses.

Next, you'll need the applicable tax forms—the 1040 plus the Schedules for submitting various categories of lists. The IRS usually sends taxpayers the same documents they used the previous year, but if you need new ones this year you can pick them up at almost any bank or post office, or you can write or visit the nearest IRS office.

One government document that's indispensable is the instruction booklet for Form 1040. Among other things it tells you what documents you will have to submit and how to fill them out.

Now, with all the needed papers on hand, simply start at the top of page one with your name and address, occupation, etc. If you are stopped by a question, consult the instruction booklet which lists 21 steps to be taken, in order, and augments the guidance included in the forms and schedules themselves.

But for most people such complications are rare. Millions of us obtain all or most of our incomes in the form of wages, salary or commissions. Our incomes and expenses are not drastically different from those we had last year. Our family relationships have not changed. For the millions in this category—people with at least high school education—there's no reason in the world to be afraid of Form 1040.

Kids Krusade Koming

The Gospel Puppets of Mr. & Mrs. Wilbur Thrush of Tampa, Florida will have a "Kids Krusade" at the Church of God 301 S.E. Avenue E., in Belle Glade, Wednesday through Sunday March 20 - 24th nightly at 7:30. The Kids Krusade will feature the ministries of Mr. & Mrs. Thrush. They make use of audio and visual aids of their own creation. Included will be Willie an unruly worm, a glass see-through heart, 64 bells; cow bells and swiss bells, strange musical instruments, a Bible spontaneously bursting into flames, special lights, magic prizes, sweet treats, a treasure chest, crowning of a king and queen, ventriloquism and visualized stories and scriptures. The Rev. Roy C. Miller, Pastor of the Belle Glade Church of God, invited everyone to attend.

Home Is Where The Heart Is

Home, the heart of all activity, will be looked into Saturday at the Belle Glade Seventh-day Adventist church as the congregation considers the "Mission of the Christian Home."

The first major study on the Divine Commission given to the church—to teach all nations—this week's 11 a.m. service will re-emphasize that "the well-being of society, the success of the church, the prosperity of the nation, depend upon home influence."

Pastor Lewis Bame will outline the job descriptions of each member who influences the home.

"Home should be a little heaven upon earth, a place where the affections are cultivated instead of being studiously repressed," the pastor said.

"Moreover, every Christian home should have rules; and parents should, in their words and deportment toward each other, give to the children a precious, living example of what they desire them to be."

"Purity in speech and true Christian courtesy should be constantly practiced. This will do more than anything else to teach respect and obedience to the laws of God and of the land," the cleric asserted.

The Cross-A Series For Lent

A series of sermons on the Cross will be preached at Everglades Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Abe Castor during Sundays in Lent. In announcing the series, the Rev. Abe Castor states his personal conviction in the words of Scripture, "For the word of the cross is folly to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. (1 Cor. 1:18)" "The Loneliness of the Cross," "Judgment and Love in the Cross," "Instant Forgiveness in the Cross," are upcoming sermon topics in this Lenten series. Each Sunday, the pastor will attempt to make the mystery of the cross understood in the language of the ordinary layman. The Rev. Abe Castor, now pastor of Everglades Presbyterian Church, is a graduate of Houghton College (N.Y.), Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and did graduate work at Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Ga. He served pastorates in Tampa and Miami the last ten years before coming to Belle Glade.

An investment in Your Future ATTEND CHURCH

THE LONER

You wonder how it got there . . . a sapling far from the forest. And grew . . . alone, unfended, little-noticed. And flourished to stand like a sentinel against the horizon.

Maybe a tree understands, as sometimes man does not, the secret of God. We are never alone!

What we need He has provided. What we are to become He has designed. The beauty and majesty and grace that can emanate from one object, one creature, He has envisioned and made real . . . for all to share.

There is no loner.

But when we feel alone, then, more than ever, we are drawn to God and His Church. In faith, in friendship with others who believe, in service to those who need our affection and care—we discover how deeply and satisfyingly we belong.
